SAVE YOUR GARDEN SEED SAYS U. S. AUTHORITY.

Home gardeners, as well as truck growers, who find seed of favored varieties difficult to secure, or high in price, would do well to save their own seed, according to the United States Department of Agriculture. The saving of seed from beans, peas, corn, peppers, okra, egg-plant, squash, cucumbers, muskmelons and watermelons is very simple, the chief requirement being to select seed from good plants. Obtaining seed from tomatoe, radish, lettuce, kale, collards, cabbage, kohlrabi, carrots and mustard, while not so simple, is not beyond the ability of any amateur gardener. A newly published Farmers' Bulletin, "Saving Vegetable Seeds for the Home and Market Garden," (No. 883), which will be supplied free by the United States Department of Agriculture, explains in detail how to gather and cure seeds commonly needed by truck growers.

It is hard for a man to see the point of a joke and feel it simultaneously.

MILD WINTER PREDICTED BY WEATHER PROPHETS.

Local weather forecasters, who look to nature for indications as to what to expect for the future, are predicting a mild winter this time. These forecasters say the absence of nuts of all kinds, such as hickory nuts, walnuts and even to acorns, is one sure sign that a mild winter is ahead, or else nature would surely have provided these things to feed the squirrels and other animals which eat them. The crop of all sorts of nuts is scarcer this year than has been known in a long time. Furthermore, there are said to be practically no dogwood balls; the shuck on the corn is exceptionally thin, and other things all point to anything but a rigorous winter.
